The purpose of the award is to recognize an individual who has contributed to the advancement of ITE over a period of years in an outstanding fashion. Burton W. Marsh was "Mr. ITE." He was a Founder, Past President, and former Executive Secretary of ITE. For more than 50 years, Burt was one of the most active ITE members, providing sage and friendly counsel and always willing to pitch in and do more than his fair share. He was a pioneer in urban traffic engineering and recognized early on the importance of traffic safety programs that incorporated the driver, the vehicle, and the roadway elements.

Eligibility

Any ITE member who has shown dedicated service to ITE and the profession of transportation. The service must be broad in scope and extended over a period of several years. Officers and Directors of ITE are not eligible while on the International Board of Direction.

Award

Selection Process

The selection is made by a committee of the most recent ITE Past Presidents. The judges will identify candidates and may also consider suggestions of candidates from members. Only one recipient will be named annually and an award need not be presented every year. Posthumous awards may be made. Once the recipient is chosen, he/she is encouraged to prepare a paper to be published in ITE Journal on the subject of the contribution which served as the primary basis for the award or on a related subject.

YOUNG MEMBER OF THE YEAR AWARD

This Award is bestowed upon an individual who has been identified as one of ITE's Young Leaders to Follow. There are two paths to consideration for the Young Member of the Year Award.

Purpose

ITE recognizes that to advance and promote the transportation industry, we must cultivate and recognize the up-and-coming talent and future generation among our ranks. To that end, ITE promotes two programs to help identify and recognize the best and brightest transportation professionals 35 years old or younger who have demonstrated leadership and innovation within the transportation industry:

Awards

ITE's Young Leaders to Follow Program

For this program, anyone with ITE member credentials may nominate a transportation professional meeting the criteria outlined on Page 8 through ITE's awards portal. This includes employers, peers, or self-nomination. A selection committee reviews all eligible submissions and chooses a class of 20 Young Leaders to Follow (which automatically includes each District Rising Star).

ITE's District Rising Stars Program

For this program, Districts select one Rising Star from among their respective District membership. Each District Awards Coordinator then enters one official entrant into ITE's Rising Stars program. To promote uniformity, ITE encourages its Districts to use the criteria outlined on Page 9 to choose their recipient. District Rising Stars are automatically integrated into ITE's Young Leaders to Follow Program and eligible to win the Young Member of the Year Award.

The following two pages outline the nomination process, required application materials and judging criteria for both the Young Leaders to Follow Program and the District Rising Star Program.

The goal of the Highway Safety Information System (HSIS) Student Research Paper Competition is to encourage university students to use HSIS data with the intent of introducing potential future highway safety professionals to good quality safety data; the application of appropriate research methods to derive recommendations; and the practice of using data to make decisions.

Eligibility

The HSIS Research Paper Competition is open to undergraduate and graduate students in degree-granting programs that support highway safety — including but not limited to — engineering, planning, statistics, psychology, and economics. Participants who have graduated from a program within the six months prior to the submission date are also eligible if the paper is based on work conducted as part of the program.

- Applicant(s) must be enrolled as a graduate or undergraduate student in the 2021–2022 academic year or graduated from a university located in the U.S. during the 2021–2022 academic year. (Faculty can advise but cannot co-author.)
- Analysis must be conducted on data requested and acquired from the Highway Safety Information System (<http://hsisinfo.org/datarequest.cfm>). Data from other states or localities may be used in support of the primary analysis using HSIS data.
- Submissions by individual students or groups of students will be considered. Teams, however, must define one lead student and contributing students for the project. (Prizes reflect this requirement.) Faculty can participate in an advisory role but cannot be co-authors on the paper.

Note: The turnaround time for requested HSIS data, www.hsisinfo.org/datarequest.cfm, is normally less than two weeks; however, time needed to conduct analysis of this data varies per project. Please be sure to plan accordingly and in advance of the paper submission deadline.

All prizes – including travel reimbursements – are subject to FHWA rules, regulations and approval at time of award.

Selection Process

A 2,500- to 5,000-word paper documenting original research must be completed and submitted along with the application no later than March 1, 2022.

Judging Criteria

- Objective of paper and emphasis on safety. (10 points)
Is the objective of the paper clearly stated and relevant to the safety community? For example, using the HSIS data to model the impacts of signal spacing on capacity does not have an emphasis on safety. However, using the HSIS data to model the impact of signal spacing on crashes is a more appropriate topic.
- Importance of HSIS data to paper topic. (20 points)
Was the use of HSIS data critical to achieving the objective of the paper? The paper should focus on the use of the HSIS and how critical it is in completing the objective of the study. HSIS data can be used in conjunction with other data sources and linked together.
- Soundness of methodology. (20 points)
Is the approach appropriate for the data? The paper should describe and use appropriate data analysis techniques that suit the objectives.
- Analysis of HSIS data. (40 points)
Was the analysis of the HSIS data specifically, correctly, and clearly conducted? The paper should analyze the HSIS data using the proposed statistical analysis techniques.
- Discussion of results. (10 points)
Were the results discussed appropriately? The specific findings of the analysis are not part of the evaluation criteria, as the evaluation instead focuses on the discussion of the results. For example, if a study on signal spacing found no effect on crashes, this will not affect the evaluation of the paper. The student should discuss the implications of the results, including a critical review of the methodology and the potential for future research.
